

LG GR 1267 Internet Refrigerator

The coolest one

The LG i-Refrigerator takes your kitchen to the next level of automation. It lets you connect via LAN, ADSL, modem or even cable and browse the Net via the integrated 15.1-inch touch-sensitive screen. A built-in camera and microphone allow you to videoconference. Sporting full-colour functionality and a GUI-driven interface, you can check your e-mail and grab a snack simultaneously!

Sony AIBO ERS-220

My dog!

Technology turns man's best friend in Sony AIBO, a robo-pet that can be trained to recognise its owner's voice and face and is sensitive to its environment. Equipped with a 64-bit RISC processor, advanced robotics, and numerous pressure, light and motion sensors, the AIBO gives you the pleasure of owning a pet without having to worry about toilet training it!

Nike psa[play]120

Just play it

A digital audio player for the music-loving sportsman, the MP3/WMA player features 64 MB of built-in Flash memory and can be worn on your person. The LCD Screen on the remote control displays track information and controls the functions. Since it has no moving parts, it is skip-resistant and highly resilient to physical shocks.