

WINDOWS

| If you want to...                                                                                                                                                                                          | Press                                                                               |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Select a menu; select or clear a check box by the letter underlined in the menu name                                                                                                                       | [Alt] + [Letter], where the [Letter] is the underlined letter in a menu command     |
| Select or deselect an active item—after selecting a group of items using [Ctrl]                                                                                                                            | [Ctrl] + [Spacebar]                                                                 |
| Select the main toolbar, beginning from the first item (generally File). After the first option is activated, navigate through menu options using the appropriate arrow keys. Press [F10] or [Alt] to exit | [F10], or [Alt]                                                                     |
| Rename a selected item                                                                                                                                                                                     | [F2]                                                                                |
| Open the drop-down list box in Windows Explorer                                                                                                                                                            | [F4], Pressing [F4] again moves the keyboard focus back to the previously used item |
| Bypass the AutoPlay feature when you insert a CD-ROM; to suppress the AutoExec macro in MS Word                                                                                                            | [Shift] (while inserting the CD, or while opening Word)                             |
| Delete items permanently, without moving them to the Recycle Bin                                                                                                                                           | [Shift] + [Delete]                                                                  |
| Make a selection from the last selected item, to the current item, in any extended selection dialog box, combo box, or list box                                                                            | [Shift] + [Spacebar]                                                                |
| Display a shortcut menu that shows a list of commands                                                                                                                                                      | [Shift] + [F10], or the Application key (the key                                    |

| If you want to...                                                                           | Press                                                                                               |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| relevant to a selected object—same as right-clicking the mouse                              | next to the right-hand Windows key)                                                                 |
| Close an active window                                                                      | [Alt] + [Spacebar] + [C] or [Alt] + [F4]                                                            |
| Minimize an active window                                                                   | [Alt] + [Spacebar] + [N]                                                                            |
| Restore an active window                                                                    | [Alt] + [Spacebar] + [R]                                                                            |
| Maximize an active window                                                                   | [Alt] + [Spacebar] + [X]                                                                            |
| Expand the view of everything under the current selection, when working in Windows Explorer | [*] (on the numeric keypad)                                                                         |
| Go one folder level up in My Computer or Windows Explorer                                   | [Backspace]                                                                                         |
| Display the properties of a selected item, while working in a window                        | [Alt] + [Enter]                                                                                     |
| Display the document menu—the same as left-clicking the top left of a window                | [Alt] + [-], or [Alt] + [Spacebar]                                                                  |
| Copy or cut a selected file to a folder by dragging it there                                | Hold [Ctrl] and drag on the file will copy a file. Holding [Shift] and dragging a file will move it |

SPECIAL SHORTCUTS

| If you want to                                                                       | Press                     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|
| Display Windows Help                                                                 | [Windows] + [F1]          |
| Open the Start menu                                                                  | [Windows], [Ctrl] + [Esc] |
| Open the System Properties dialog box                                                | [Windows] + [Pause Break] |
| Open the Find Computer dialog box                                                    | [Windows] + [Ctrl] + [F]  |
| Open Windows Explorer                                                                | [Windows] + [E]           |
| Open the Find All Files dialog box                                                   | [Windows] + [F]           |
| Minimize all open windows                                                            | [Windows] + [M]           |
| Expand previously opened windows, and go back to the window you were working in last | [Windows] + [Shift] + M   |
| Display the Run dialog box                                                           | [Windows] + [R]           |
| Select and cycle through the taskbar buttons                                         | [Windows] + [Tab]         |
| Set focus on a notification (only in Windows XP)                                     | [Windows] + [B]           |

Where Technology takes you

Tips & Tricks, Software shortcuts, Q&A know-how, How to guides, Step-by-step tutorials, Beginner guides

Help

www.zdnetindia.com/help