

PULSE*All in The Name of.....24
The Game

David King talks about his favourite grisly animated monsters, fairies, aliens and the tools that make them happen

FEATURES*Delaying the Inevitable.....28

With chips getting far more miniscule in size than we thought possible, Moore's Law seems indefiable. Here's how technology aims to defy this barrier

Duty cuts: What do they mean for you?.....36

The mini-budget is full of surprises for the PC buyer. But does it really affect you?

TEST DRIVE*A Board's-eye View.....40

The motherboard—the foundation of your PC. We rounded 52 of them to see how well their buses and chips took the rigours of our tests

Memory Gallops.....66

Eight brands of memory race against each other, to prove their mettle

Time's Up .....68

...Now to look around for a brisk processor. We have 13 choices lined up ▲ 40 Here are 52 motherboards for your CPU, memory, graphics card, et al!

Own your e-mail.....82

Eight e-mail server software solutions bring order to the flow of e-mails in your organisation, and give you a suave professional e-mail ID

INSIGHT*Everyone's Invited.....123

The WikiWikiWeb is as free and informal as the Web itself. For one, it lets you change its look! Interested?

Supercomputing .....126

What are supercomputers? How do they work? What exactly do they do? Let's find out...

Remote Controlling Your World .....131

PC problems, and no help in sight? Just call Remote Assistance

Contacting Harmony.....134

At sea with those contacts scattered across your laptop, cell phone and PC? Get them to sync in Outlook, and sail into business!

Boots in Control.....137

Multi-boot your PC using the LILO boot loader. You are sure to be in control

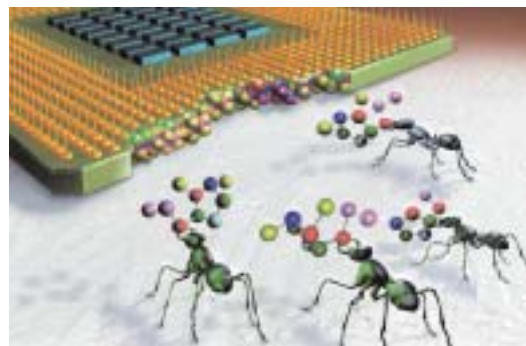

▲ 131 Get that Tech Support guy to help you through your nasty PC problems, courtesy Remote Assistance

▲ 137 Switch between OSes with ease, using the LILO boot loader

◀◀
74

Don't let your correspondence get chaotic. Get an e-mail server!

▲ 28 What will tomorrow's chips be made of? Surely not potatoes...