

Where April Fools Dare

An idle mind is indeed the devil's workshop;
six Digit employees found out the hard way...on April 1

Saurabh 'CD' Kumar was sitting around office one boring Wednesday evening, waiting for the CD design team to finish their late tea-break, when he was struck by a brilliant idea for an April Fools' prank. He dashed off to find Mexy 'Flash' Xavier, and lay out his plan. Since no one seems to go home on time here, he ended up with three additional supporters—Prashant 'Brandy' Narekuli (Brand Manager, Digit) Sachin 'Deep Pockets' Kalbag (Features Editor), and Gautami 'Loudspeaker' Chalke (Test Centre).

The next day, six eager 'models' from within the company ranks were informed of a photo shoot for the Digit Forum.

Early in the evening, the chosen six were hustled out of their work places; the women were dressed in saris and the men in odd-fitting suits, and told to assemble at the main entrance. The following is the sequence of events that transpired.

Time: 5:12 PM
Scene: Just a group picture of the six models, before we got started with them.
Left to right: Garfield, Rashmeena, Ashrita, Srinivasan, Renuka, Siddharth

Time: 5:32 PM
Scene: Depicting the various users on the forum. Don't miss Srinivasan trying to look imposing, Garfield attempting to look suave, and the ladies looking as elegant as ever. As for Siddharth, he's just being jolly!

Time: 5:39 PM
Scene: Using the forum is child's play, so all our models wanted a 'wollipwop' and cried for their 'mama'—no, not their uncle, their mother!

Time: 5:24 PM
Scene: "The forum is like an umbrella for all Digit readers!" So obviously, our models had to use an umbrella to symbolise this

Time: 5:32 pm
Scene: Help is always available on the forum—sometimes it's even forced upon you

Time: 5:52 PM
Scene: "April Fool"—Muhahahahahahaha, suckers!
Thank God for chocolate cake, the truly universal pacifier!

Time: 5:36 PM
Scene: Take that! Don't forget to wear your helmets, lest you meet these women on the street (The models were asked to depict the verbal duels that the forum is famous for)

BEHIND THE SCENES

Here are the three pranksters directing the models, serious and professional to the core—with scripts and everything. It must have been really hard to keep a straight face (Left to right: Saurabh, Rohini, Gautami and Mexy)

"You call that a pose?; stop chewing your hair; no, the lollipop doesn't go in your nose; ..." All said and done, the 'models' took it sportingly, in true Digit tradition. Who said geeks live boring lives?
