Game Trainers

A game trainer is a third-party program that allows you to turn on and off certain qualities that weren't included in the game. These can be Terminal Stay Residents (TSRs)—usually for DOS-based games, or can remain running while your game is in progress (for Win95-based games). This can range from unlimited lives to unlimited ammo, invulnerability, etc. The trainer alters the original memory locations to allow you to cheat where you wouldn't be able to without it. Visit <http://www.cheatplanet.com/pctrainers.html> to download trainers for various games.
