

and 19, March 31, and April 4, you might want to view those dates in a single pane, giving you easy access to meeting summaries, attachments, and lists of attendees.

To view non-consecutive dates, on the right side of the window in the Date Navigator (the small calendar that displays the current month), click the first date you want to view. Then, while holding down [Ctrl], click any other dates you want to view. To remove a date, click it again.

You can display up to 14 non-consecutive days.

Save Multiple Attachments Simultaneously

 When you receive an Outlook message containing several attached files, you don't have to open and save each file separately. You can save multiple attachments to the same location in a single step.

Click 'Save Attachments' on the 'File' menu. When the 'Save All Attachments' dialog box opens, click OK. Then select the folder where you want to save the files, and click 'OK'.

When you use this shortcut, you must save all the files to the same folder. To save each attachment to a different folder, you will need to save them individually.

Calendar-Viewing Shortcuts

 In Outlook Calendar, do the following:

Press [Alt] + [-] to display the current week.

Press [Alt] + [=] to display the current month.

Use vCards

 Outlook supports the use of vCards, the Internet standard for creating and sharing virtual business cards. By adding a vCard to your e-mail signature, you can easily include your business contact information with every e-mail message you send.

If you receive a vCard and would like to save the information it contains, simply double-click it, and it will open as a contact item that you can easily save to your Contacts folder.

To include a vCard with your e-mail signature, go to Tools > Options, and then click the 'Mail Format' tab. Under 'Signature', click 'Signatures', and then click 'New'. Select the options you want, and then click 'Next'. Under 'vCard options', select a vCard from the list or click 'New vCard from Contact'.

Get Rid Of Space-Stealing Files In Outlook

 When it's time to clean up their mailboxes, most people have trouble finding and deleting the messages that take up the most space, such as those with large attachments. Here's a fast way to expose the space stealers hiding in your Outlook folders.

To create a customised search file in Outlook, go to Tools > Advanced Find, and then click the 'More Choices' tab. In the 'Look for' box, click 'Messages'. In the Size list, click 'greater than', and then type a number such as 500 (for files that are 500 kilobytes or larger). Select the remaining search options you want, and click 'Find Now'.

When the search is complete, you can save it as a shortcut. Here's how: click 'Save Search' on the 'File' menu of the 'Advanced Find' dialog box, and save it somewhere you can find it easily later, such as your desktop. Then, the next time you want to run this search, just double-click the shortcut.

Colour-Code Your Calendar

 In your Outlook Calendar, you can use colours to help you manage your appointments. For example, you can choose colours with predefined labels such as "Personal", "Needs Preparation," or "Must Attend"; or, you can create your own labels. Here's how.

To colour an appointment or meeting with a predefined label, click 'Calendar'. Right-click an appointment or meeting, point to 'Label' on the shortcut menu, and then click a colour-coded label in the list. To remove the colour from the appointment or meeting, in the 'Label' list, click 'None'.

To create your own coloured label, click 'Calendar'. Right-click an appointment or meeting, point to 'Label' on the shortcut menu, and then click 'Edit Labels'. Pick the colour you want to rename, type in your new label name, and click 'OK'.

Find Related Messages In Outlook

 Do you end up scanning Outlook folders to find messages previously sent or received as part of an extended e-mail conversation? Outlook can find and display these messages, if they are part of the same conversation string: select one of the messages in the e-mail conversation. On the 'Actions' menu, point to 'Find All', and click 'Related Messages'.

You can also use a shortcut to find related messages. When you open an e-mail message you have already replied to, a yellow information bar indicates the date and time you replied to the message, and provides a link you can use to find all related messages. Click the information bar to view related messages. In Outlook 2002, the bar also indicates if the sender is currently online, and if that sender is an Instant Messenger contact.

Using a message in a thread, you can find all related messages

Return Meeting Responses To The Right Person

 Most administrative assistants have permission to send meeting requests from their bosses' accounts—but sometimes, responses to those meeting requests end up in their bosses' mailboxes. Here's a way to return responses to the administrative assistant.

You can grant someone permission to send e-mail requests for you by using the 'Delegate Access' feature: go to Tools > Options, click the 'Delegates' tab, and click 'Add'. With that done, it's easy to specify that responses be returned to that person as a delegate.

To return responses to delegates, go to Tools > Options, and then click the 'Delegates' tab. Select 'Send meeting requests and responses only to my delegates, not to me'.

Open, Dismiss, Or Snooze Multiple Reminders

 Did you know that you could act on more than one reminder at a time in Outlook 2002? Your reminders are listed in the 'Reminders' window, which is accessible from the 'View' menu. From there you can open, dismiss, or 'snooze' multiple reminders with a single click.

To work with multiple reminders, first select the first reminder. Hold down [Ctrl]. Select any additional reminders. Click 'Open Item', 'Dismiss', or 'Snooze'.
