

Enter

16

The Made-In-India Alisha Chinai confesses she's not exactly tech savvy but knows the tech cool quotient

18

Apple's new iPod offering is the iPod Nano. Is it hotter than the iPod Mini?

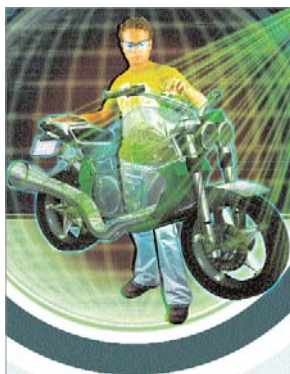

24

Intel's Yonah chip explained in a nutshell

Digital Passion

25 The Final Frontier

Cutting edge space technologies needn't just help us travel beyond our planet. Here's how they add an extra zing to a common man's life on Earth too

32 The Third Dimension

3D is the ultimate aim of display technology. There are many 3D visualisation technologies out there, but when will holo-TV be reality? When will true 3D reach our homes?

44 Towards Terabytes

A terabyte hard disk for your PC is not too far off—you could own one as early as next year. Here's a look at what's going on in the labs to make this possible

52 Laptop Test

These babies would look pretty on any lap, but the question is, can you afford them? A shootout that presents the best lifestyle laptops money can buy ☑

66 Precious Phones

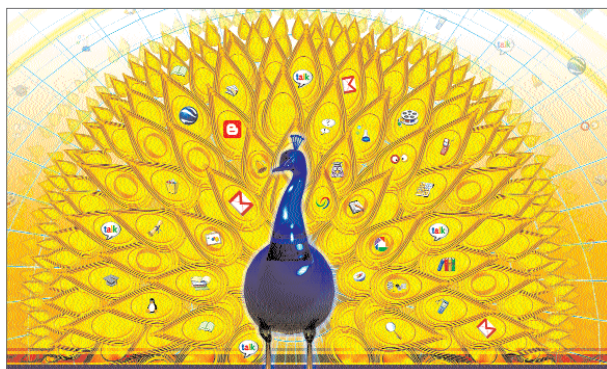

Mobile phones may be ubiquitous today, but there are still ones that cost a fortune. One look at these high-end mobile phones and you'll be hooked

Contents Magazine

Digital Tools

79 Search, Ads & MORE

There's much, much more to Google than Search. We tell how to get that extra out of the Big G and enhance your work—just by clicking 'more' ☑

91 Old Way Tech Way

What would you prefer—the good old transistor radio or Internet radio? Here's our take

97 Agent 001

Troubleshoot and explore with Agent 001 as he tells you all about DVD-Writers and what to be wary of when buying one

99 Net Gain

Here's a Web site that tells you what you can do so your money works for you

100 New & Notable

Among this month's New & Notable devices are a sleek 17-inch monitor, an entry level phone, and a device that works as a digital camera, digital video camera, Web cam, MP3 player and voice recorder (!)

106 Tech Nightmares

This month, we address some issues that often surface—and frustrate—during the Windows installation process