

The QUEST FOR THE BEST!

We're LOOKING for the BEST DEVELOPERS in the country.
Are you in the running?

Do you have what it takes to be among
the best enterprise
software developers
in India?

The Developer Premier League is a unique enterprise developer team challenge, with the sole objective of identifying the best of brains and bytes from India. Move over hackathons, and small groups. We're thinking of leagues.

The aim of this contest is to identify and honour enterprise developer teams that have knowledge, flair and ingenuity to plan and develop complex enterprise applications smartly, quickly & correctly.

This unique and rigorous program will keep you crunching code, gulping coke and munching pizza for a little over a month. If you survive the online challenge to prove your mettle, we'd meet you for the final on-ground challenge to be held at New Delhi, Bengaluru and Hyderabad.

Here's your chance to display
your talent
before friends,
colleagues and
the software
development
fraternity in India.
