

rule to similar emails as well. By clicking on the Select Create Rule option you can choose from the given options to instruct Outlook on how to sort the mails along criterias such as sender name, size of email, date sent, recipient and much more. A similar option as Rules is the Conditional Formatting options available under the View tab's View Settings option. This tool doesn't affect the placement or organisation of the emails but is used to format them via colour coding or font styles to make them visually more accessible.

Delegate Access

Usually when you go on vacation or are away from your system for a long period an automated response is easy to

The Note option creates floating Post-Its set up. But if you have an assistant that you would like to delegate access to update your email and calendar than Outlook has the right tool for you. In order to do this goto the File tab and select Account Settings menu and select the Delegate Access option. Its important to note that whoever you wish to grant access to your Outlook account should have the same version of Outlook on their machine as well with the contents stored on the Exchange server. If you keep your email on your hard drive then this option isn't really for you. Otherwise, after clicking on the Delegate Access option you can select Add and enter the names of the people you wish to grant access. There is a dropdown menu where permissions can be granted. The default selection is to grant your delegate access to your calendar and task list while your emails and contacts remain private but you can change this depending on how you feel about your delegate.

Post-It Notes

While working on Outlook it can become necessary to jot down certain notes or copy parts of an email for later use. Luckily Outlook comes with its built in sticky notes feature which can be accessed by pressing Ctrl+Shift+N while in Outlook. This will create a new note which can moved around the screen and placed anywhere. The default view of the note is the typical yellow post-it style but it can be customised to reflect categories that are colour coded. To manage the notes you need to click on the Note icon at the bottom of the View window pane. This will allow you to organise, print, copy and search within your notes from the top-right part of the window where the search field is located.

EVERNOTE Send email directly to Evernote

Like Tumblr, the note taking app, gives you your very own email address to which you can send notes. Once you enter the required details – such as title of the note (subject of your email), notebook to which you

ADVANCED EVERNOTE SEARCHES
SEARCH FOR NOTES...	WITH THESE PARAMETERS
with encrypted text	encryption: (You don't need to type anything after the colon.)
with checkboxes that are complete or incomplete (i.e.checked or unchecked)	todo:true or todo:false
with checklists	todo:*
with a specific keyword in the title	intitle:KEYWORD
within a specific notebook	notebook:
with a specific notebook title and keyword	notebook:NOTEBOOKTITLE KEYWORD containing any of the specified terms	any:
with the specified tag	-tag:
based on when they were originally created	created:YYYYMMDD
based on when they were last updated	updated:YYYYMMDD
with an embedded image	resource:image/* OR resource:image/ PNG, resource:image/gif, resource:image/gif, etc.
that include an audio file	resource:audio/*
that include one or more ink files	resource:application/vnd.evernote. ink
that include no images	-resource:image/*
with text inside images	recoType:handwritten OR recoType:picture

KEYBOARD SHORTCUTS

TASK	WINDOWS	MAC
Create new note	[Ctrl] + [N]	⌘ + [N]
Switch to Evernote & jump to a new note	[Ctrl] + [Alt] + [N]	⌘ + ⌥ + [N]
Encrypt text within a note	[Ctrl]+[Shift]+[X]	[Shift] + ⌘ + [X]
Save text and screenshots:	⌘ + [PrtScrn]	[Ctrl] + [Alt] + [V]
Clip selected text	⌘ + [A]	Caps Lock, Caps Lock (press twice quickly)
Paste clipboard content as new note	[Ctrl] + [Alt] + [V]	[Ctrl] + [Alt] + [V]
Search in Evernote	[Win] + [Shift] + [F]	[Option] + ⌘ + [F]

want it uploaded (add @notebookname after email subject), tag (#tagname), reminder (!date) and content of the note (email body) – and press 'send', they'll automatically be uploaded to your Evernote account. E.g. Your subject line will look like this: Fast Track to Arduino @ FT Ideas !2014/11/01 #NovEditmeet. Say you want to combine this note with another existing note that has the same title, simply add an ' + ' at the end of your subject line.

Where do you get this email address? In the web version, go to Settings > Account Summary > Scroll down to 'Email Notes To'.Right beside this is your personal email ID. To find it on your desktop program, go to Tools > Account Info or Account Info > Your name on your phone app.

Besides using the address to upload notes, you can also provide the ID when subscribing to newsletters or on services such