The folks over at the Digit Test Centre in Mumbai got their hands on the Oppo Reno 8T, which happens to feature a camera that can take microscopic pictures. You already know where this is headed now. All the images in this 1000 words section are from the phone's gallery.

We hand-picked some of the best ones and decided to put your brains to work. This month, it will be you who will be telling us what each picture depicts. Below every picture is a one-line riddle you need to solve. The answer to the riddle gives you the name of the thing that is shown in the picture. If you think you could guess them correctly, write to us at editor@digit.in and get featured in next month's issue.

I tell people my owner's name and give them their contact information.

I am listening to what you say. Just turn me on.

If your phone delivery was safe, thank me.

You can hit accurate headshots in games, thanks to me.
