TECH OPINIONS

...TO MAKE YOU WISER IN THE NEW YEAR

Nothing says Happy New Year like a huge serving of unpopular tech opinions.

As part of your new year's resolution, we ask you to ditch the conventional perspective and embrace the atypical viewpoint. Prepare to have your comfort zones challenged, your digital determination debunked and your critical thinking flexed. We try to question the unquestionable, dethrone the overrated and infuse a healthy dose of skepticism into your tech assumptions.

As you read through this article, remember that with great unpopularity comes great responsibility. We're not here to bash or burn, but to spark debate and ignite critical thinking, and maybe, just maybe, inspire some of you to think differently about your tech horizons.
