

Guess what Manish bought from Vietnam

“What have we done?”

~ Mithun when...

on end. His unexpected obsession with Vampire Survivors took everyone by surprise, proving that even the most dedicated gamers could be swayed by a new gaming sensation.

But Satvik’s gaming odyssey didn’t end there. Encouraged by his colleagues, Manish and Prakrit, he ventured into the realm of Age of Mythology, immersing himself in epic battles and ancient civilizations. His newfound fascination with the game raised eyebrows among his fellow gamers, who never imagined him straying from his beloved first-person shooters. Yet, Satvik embraced the challenge wholeheartedly, diving into the campaign mode with gusto, surprising everyone with his newfound passion for strategy and mythology.

Amidst the chaos of deadlines, vacations, and gaming binges, the team at TechNova Enterprises found moments of laughter and camaraderie, forging bonds that transcended the confines of the office. Whether it was sharing stories of epic vacations, embarking on solo adventures, or losing themselves in the world of gaming, they discovered that amidst the madness, there was always time for fun and connection. And as they navigated through the ups and downs of work life, fueled by caffeine and camaraderie, they realized that sometimes, the most important deadlines were the ones they set for themselves—to find joy amidst the chaos and laughter amidst the grind.

When hungry, Team Digit turns to Bun Maska and chai!