BOULT, a homegrown Indian brand, has made a significant impact in the audio accessories market with its innovative and affordable products along with a customer-centric approach. In an exclusive interview, Varun Gupta, Co-Founder of BOULT, shares the brand's vision, its foray into the soundbar category, and the unique features of its new products.

Digit: Could you tell us about BOULT's journey so far? Especially with its strong presence in TWS, headphones, Bluetooth speakers, and smartwatches. How did the idea for BOULT come about?

Varun Gupta: BOULT is a homegrown, high-end consumer electronic brand that designs and manufactures innovative audio and wearable products. It has embarked on a remarkable journey, marked by its robust presence in various segments such as True Wireless Stereo (TWS) earbuds, headphones, Bluetooth speakers, and smartwatches. The inception of BOULT stemmed from a vision to redefine audio experiences and cater to the evolving needs of consumers in an increasingly digital world, combined with my passion as a musician to create great audio experiences for all those who love music. The company started with a small capital in 2017 on the e-commerce platform – Myntra. It gradually expanded to Amazon, Flipkart, and all the other E-Commerce platforms. BOULT strives to deliver the epitome of quality products, providing a high-fidelity audio experience along with superior comfort. The focus of the brand is to develop and deliver solutions that provide ingenuity, superior value, and hassle-free customer experience. The journey began with the neckband category. Establishing itself by making a mark there, it then ventured into headphones, true wireless stereo, and speakers in the audio category. It is the 2nd largest-selling brand across major marketplaces in the current year 2022. Expanding further into the smartwatch category, and despite being a new entrant in this market segment, it holds the record of the fastest-selling and best-rated smartwatch on Flipkart.

Digit: How does BOULT approach product design and conceptualization?

Varun Gupta: We are the only consumer electronics brand in the country with its design studio, where they conceptualize and meticulously design every product to build masterpieces that are best-sellers on every recognized e-commerce platform in the country. From the outset, BOULT has been committed to pushing the boundaries of audio technology while ensuring accessibility and affordability for a wide range of consumers. This commitment is reflected in its diverse product lineup, which encompasses cutting-edge TWS earbuds for on-the-go convenience, immersive headphones for audiophiles, and intuitive smartwatches that seamlessly integrate with active lifestyles. Through relentless innovation, meticulous craftsmanship, and a customer-centric approach, BOULT has established itself as a trusted name in the audio industry. Its journey so far has been characterized by a relentless pursuit of excellence, earning the brand a loyal following and cementing its position as a leader in the competitive audio market.

Digit: Soundbars is a category extension in addition to BOULT's current product lineup. What inspired the decision to enter this category?
