of the game, you go along with them on their eventful journeys and help them solve mysteries.

The puzzle solving teaches math, logic, spatial orientation and math. The storyline keeps kids thoroughly entertained and engrossed. It's aimed at kids 11 years and above.

The games are divided into two trilogies. One set tells you of the Professor and Trinton's many adventures together. The other is more about how they met and began their journey.

The third part of the series, 'Professor Layton and the Unwound Future' won a 'Parent's Choice Silver Honors Award' from the Parents Choice Foundation.
