

Using a DVD authoring program

When considering DVD authoring programs, the thumb rule is to test several free DVD authoring programs and decide based on your requirements. Do you want to create a movie using your vacation photos and videos? A basic free program will be sufficient. However, if you need to create a DVD for business purposes, consider paid programs which will have advanced features. Examples of paid and open source applications are Nero Video 2015 and DVD Flick, respectively.

Usage Scenario

You'll be able to add titles, captions, menus, animations and much more using the program. Your users can choose to view all video clips in one go or select a particular clip with the help of menus. Images and audio can be burnt to the DVD in a similar manner.
