

- ◆ 6:00 am: Joe wakes up to another Monday. He puts on his VR goggles and browses social media for a while. He likes the 360 video that a friend uploaded from his Vacation in Hawaii. He could almost feel the breeze onto his face. Realizing that it's time for his workout, he gets up.
- ◆ 6:30-7:30am: Joe has always loved the forest, but the only kind he can have in this city is made of concrete. So as he steps on to his omnidirectional treadmill, he launches the "Forest" experience on his VR helmet and begins his morning run into the Amazon forest, complete with the sights, sounds and even some of the scents, thanks to the new Scent module he added to the headset.
- ◆ 8:00-9:00am: On his way to office, Joe checks out his day's schedule with his virtual assistant who provides him all the necessary files, photos, profiles to check in a 3D virtual space designed to emulate his office. He specifically pays attention to the client he is going to meet when he reaches. On the way, his car breaks down and he takes the meeting through his VR headset, using the gesture detecting VR module to express himself fully. Eventually, his driver informs him that he has fixed the car thanks to the help from the nearest service centre which he received over his smartphone-VR headset.
- ◆ 11:00am: Joe attends a team meeting with locations across the world where they are taken on a virtual tour of the client's latest project which they would be working on. Each detail of the location is explored. Joe goes back to work on the design in his VR 3D Design Software.
- ◆ 12:00pm: Joe oversees the new workers being trained to use the Telepresence robots for their latest construction project on Antarctica. Their instructor is in another country and is also using a telepresence robot.
- ◆ 4:00pm: Joe leaves a bit early as it is his marriage anniversary today and he has already made elaborate plans. He calls up the chef on a Virtual call and checks how the food looks, smells and tastes. He also personally verifies the freshness of the flowers through his VR gloves. Thanks to the Virtual Restaurant tour service, he hadn't even stepped foot into the restaurant once.
- ◆ 6:00-7:00pm: On their way to the restaurant, Joe has planned something more for his wife. Both put on VR headsets and are put in the middle of her favourite movie, where she can see him standing beside her.
- ◆ 7:00-9:00pm: Both of them have a wonderful experience at the restaurant, where with each cuisine they have, they can choose to experience the country from where it originates as well. After dinner, she excuses
