

Murad and Natalie Osmani's #FollowMeTo series has sparked countless imitations all over the world.

hand, leading him forward as he seems to hold back just a little to take a photograph. What began as a hobby has ended up earning him widespread acclaim in photojournalism circles, and has even resulted in a book deal and many advertising contracts. Travel Mad Mum (@travelmادمum) is a rather novel account, featuring Karen Edwards, an Irish-born UK resident, mother of Esmé, who has been travelling with her toddler since she was ten weeks old! She catalogues her unique experiences on Instagram and on her website as well. There's often some good advice to be gained from her experiences with travelling with a kid, too. Travel accounts excite the latent wanderlust in all of us. For the vast majority of people who live in a constant process of simply making it from weekend to weekend, the pleasure of armchair globetrotting is part of what helps push them through morose Mondays and over the hump of woeful Wednesdays.

Food

Roam around on the internet long enough and chances are you will most certainly run into pictures of ridiculous-looking oreo milkshakes contained in fat glass jars, topped with whipped cream, jelly beans, chocolate chips and - because why do a good thing by half - a couple of Oreo cookies, whole. Such egregious desserts (if they can still be called that) only represent one
