

TESTING YOUR APP

Once you've done building your first app, you'd want to take a closer look and hope that you haven't missed out on anything. Time to test your app!

Everything is connected to your Apple ID and you can only do so much with your free ID. We've already covered how you'll go about getting an Developer Apple ID in the next chapter so we aren't going to repeat the entire thing all over again. Let's just say you need to go and get yourself a developer Apple ID before coming back to this chapter.
