

CADisplayLink run loop to change animated properties. Compatible with iOS 8 and Swift 2.0, the Cheetah plugin provides the ability to animate with duration and delay, parallel and serial executions, easings and springs. To install Cheetah plugin, you need to add github “suguru/Cheetah” to your Cartfile.

<http://dgit.in/cheetah-swift>

Syntax Highlighting for Swift

Syntax Highlighting for Swift enables you to colorize your Swift source code easily and is the implementation of flappy bird. To install, you need to clone the repo to your package folder and set syntax to Swift.

<http://dgit.in/syntax-swift>

MagicMove

MagicMove brings all the magic of Keynote move, spin and fade transitions to iOS.

<http://dgit.in/magicmove>

Pulsator

Pulsator enables you to implement stunning pulse style animations using Swift. This plugin works great for beaming pulses of Bluetooth, BTLE, beacons including map annotations.

<http://dgit.in/pulsator-swift>

Stellar

Stellar is a physical animation library for Swift based on UIDynamic. The APIs are friendly, which makes you to build your own custom animations easily.

<http://dgit.in/stellar-swift>

SAConfettiView

SAConfettiView enables you to add fun and multi-colored confetti to your application. Also create an animation with which you can make small objects to fall from the top from within your animation. You can make use of various types and colors of confetti. Available via Cocoapods, you need to add pod “SAConfettiView” to your podfile and run $ pod install. You can manually install the plugin by adding SAConfettiView.swift to your project.

<http://dgit.in/saconfetti>