

ADPuzzleAnimation

ADPuzzleAnimation enables you to build and destroy given view (area) into pieces. Inspired by Fabric, the plugin can be easily implemented into your projects by using `init()` method. It is possible to integrate the plugin using both CocoaPods and Carthage.

<http://dgit.in/adpuzzle>

BrowserTV

BrowserTV is an upcoming tool used to display any webpage on your Television. As of now, you need to use a companion OS X app to implement the plugin.

<http://dgit.in/browsertv-swift>

Heimdallr

Heimdallr is an authentication library which makes use of OAuth 2. The extension provides support for resource owner password credentials grant flow, access token refresh in addition to extension grants.

<http://dgit.in/heim-swift>

OAuth2

OAuth2 is a Swift plugin developed for building iOS apps. To work with OAuth2, you need to start with `import OAuth2` in your source files. The installation and usage is pretty complicated but explained by the developer.

<http://dgit.in/oauth2-swift>

OAuthSwift

OAuthSwift can be easily installed via both CocoaPods and Carthage. To work with the plugin, you need to drag OAuthSwift.xcodeproj to your project using Project Navigator. You need to open the Build Phases panel, expand the Target Dependencies group and add OAuthSwift framework. You just need to import OAuthSwift when you would like to use the plugin in your project.

<http://dgit.in/oauthswift>

InstagramAuthViewController

InstagramAuthViewController is a subclass of UIViewController which enables you to integrate Instagram login page in your app. It is compatible with iOS 8.0+ and Xcode 7.3. You need to download the repo and add InstagramAuthViewController.swift. <http://dgit.in/insta-swift>