

Always select an autolock timeout for your iPhone feature to your advantage for your social networking apps, mail apps and online wallets. Basically anything that has your private and important information stored as cookies.

Applications

In addition to these general settings which are common for all iPhones, you can download applications from the generous variety offered by the iStore. These apps can help you keep your phone safe and sound.

1. Lookout

Lookout is basically a better version of Find my iPhone. It saves the last location of the iPhone before its battery dies out and comes with some other clever features. The app also has a instant contact and data backup option and can be accessed via any web browser.

2. Foscam Surveillance Pro

Now this is not a security app per se, but it is so cool we thought we would include it anyways. You can basically run a security camera service using this application and get LIVE feed from up to 6 cheap IP cameras. You can even control the movement of some. If you don't want to spend a tonne on a home security service or want a handy baby monitor, search no more. Plus it has a little DIY element for all you enthusiasts.
