

While relying on experts isn't entirely bad, it's essential that you take matters into your own hands. In the chapters to come, we tell you about securing everything, from your smartphone to your laptop, your website to your WiFi router and more. Once you're done with this Fast-track, it would be easier to break into Alcatraz than to break into your devices. We hope! 