

bass is hard-hitting (giving it a broader audience) and the cable is braided unlike the delicate, almost flimsy string of a cable on the E10.

Price: ₹2,109

Gaming headphones

Without headphones, your gaming experience will always remain sub par, especially when it comes to multiplayer gaming. The headphones listed below are some of the most memorable gaming headphones reviewed by the Digit thus far. Pick one up according to your needs.

Steelseries Siberia 51100 V2

For a gamer, these are possibly the best headsets that you can buy in terms of quality and output. And, there are some pretty good deals in the market that will allow you to grab these for a steal!

Price: ₹6,000

ROCCAT Kave 5.1

The best surround sound gaming experience that we have ever had from a headset. This is a set that excels at recreating great ambience, nothing more. But, if that's all you want, this set is perfect.

Price: ₹7,799

Creative Sound Blaster Tactic 3D Sigma

It's a great all-rounder gaming headphone and a bass-heads dream; at the same time. The Tactic 3D Sigma is slap bang in the middle of Creative's Tactic line-up and does a great job at that position. We're hard pressed to think of a set that can rival this one at this price point, making this a worthy purchase. It's a great all-rounder and a bass-heads dream; at the same time, it won't burn too deep a hole in your pocket. What more can you ask for?

Price: ₹3,450

Kingston HyperX Cloud Core

At a market price of about Rs. 4,000 the Cloud Core could very well be