

You just need to ask questions and the speaker will reply with answers via the integrated hi-fi high-excursion speaker. To play music, podcasts or radio, you need to place a simple voice request. You can get the latest information on weather, traffic, finance, sports and much more. In fact, you can do all activities that you normally do via your laptop using Google Home. Google Home is available from Google store, Best Buy, Target and Walmart at $129.

<http://dgit.in/googlehomespeaker>

Asus Zenbo

Zenbo, recently announced by Asus is tagged as a smart little companion. The robot will be able to perform a wide range of tasks based on user input. You can move the Zenbo to work with him. Moreover,

Manage your lifestyle effectively with Asus Zenbo

you can see through the integrated camera, which will recognize faces including capturing of photos and videos. Moreover, Asus Zenbo will be able to make video calls and provide remote home monitoring services. The robot also features unique speech functionality, which can provide reminders via high-quality integrated stereo speakers. You can connect Zenbo to your smart gadgets to order products online and work with several emoticons. Asus employs proactive AI to infuse various functions. Furthermore, the Asus Zenbo smart robot has been priced competitively at $599.

<http://dgit.in/asuszenbo>