

WHY ANGULAR?

When there are multiple JavaScript frameworks to choose from, why choose this one? Let's find out.

The last 5 years have seen a tremendous growth in applications that are generally client side, and use simple server endpoints for data communication. This allows for a faster, better and more interactive experience as compared to previous applications that depended heavily on a server for most of its processing logic and only used simple JavaScript & html to render the results on a browser.