

The cult of the personality is the mainstay of the age in which we live. From taking selfies to getting bespoke products, the trend is definitely about expressing who you are and what you stand for.

It's no secret that video is one of the most popular formats that people use and share over the internet. This makes YouTube a great way to express yourself and your ideas to a wide audience. For some reason, our abiding enthusiasm for the moving pictures hasn't left us even in the internet age.

But while creating a YouTube Channel may be technically not as daunting as you may think, the key is having a unique identity for the channel, something that will make the channel interesting and also stand out in a crowd. (And you better believe that there is a crowd out there!)

It would be presumptuous to say that you can create an identity for your channel based solely on a list of tips. But certain pointers would help you avoid pitfalls and hasten the process of becoming a YouTube celeb.

So, without further ado...

YouTube channel trends

If at all you are confused about a starting point, you can always refer to the popular trends that are already visible on YouTube. Chances are high that one (or maybe a few) of these categories would pique your interest, giving you ideas of your own.

Here, then is a look at some of the most popular YouTube trends.

Animals

Cats and honey badgers are only the beginning of the story as far as cute animal videos on YouTube are concerned. From dogs that swim in the pool with kids to ponies dressed in sweaters, animals are your best friends if you want to make money on YouTube. To give you a perspective, there are more than 10 million cat videos on YouTube. And that's just cat videos!

As cute as it gets!
