

YouTube has given birth to a new breed of celebrities, called YouTubers who are earning millions every year through their YouTube account and have made a career out of this.

This is probably the most important chapter in this issue of FastTrack. Read on to find out how you can join the ranks of those people and start earning money through your YouTube account.

How do people make money from Youtube?

- Revenue from advertisements

YouTube lets you add advertisements through Google AdSense to your YouTube videos and earn revenue of them. This is the simplest way most of the YouTubers use to monetize their content.

- Affiliate link

Just like other affiliate marketing techniques, you add the affiliate link to a product in your video description and ask your viewers to buy it through it.

- Sponsorships and product placements

You can get sponsorship deals with various brands where you will be paid to market their product through your YouTube channel. This doesn't mean you have to straight up ask people to buy the product. You can review the products or services a company is providing, recommend it or use and promote their product indirectly.

- MCN

Like talent agencies in the real world, MCNs or Multi Channel Networks offers a hosts of services to YouTubers which include promotion, getting brand deals and sponsorship contracts in exchange of a cut from your revenue.

So how do i start earning money from Youtube?

Start earning right now with the YouTube Partner program

What is the YouTube Partner Program?

YouTube started the partner program a couple of years back. It lets you 'partner' with YouTube and use Google's AdSense to display a variety of advertisement, mostly related to the content you upload on your channel and in your videos. Every time, someone clicks one of those banner ads or watches one of the 'TV-commercial' type ad played before or during your
