

ments that makes it less professional and easier to understand for the public. Their biggest hit was when they latched on to the viral post about a certain dress color and explained why there was a confusion around it.

Comedy

Lilly Singh

(|Superwoman|)

Lilly Singh is a Canadian YouTuber who started producing videos as a way to cope with her depression. She is a well known vlogger and appeals to the female demographic of YouTube. She posts content related to her everyday life around being a woman and being of Indian heritage. Her channel also features Q&A sessions in which she showcases behind-the-scenes content as well. She has recently collaborated with a bunch of celebrities and even produced a couple of music videos where she sings, raps and more.

PewDiePie

For a long while now, a certain YouTuber who goes by the name PewDiePie, has been holding the position of the channel with most subscribers on You-

