There is something beautiful about flickr for the Apple TV. On the big screen, it is a wonderful experience to indulge in a world of beautiful photos on the big screen. Must have for photography lovers.

The future of Apple TV

The Apple TV sure has come a long way. But at the same time, it hasn't really 'revolutionized' the way people use their TV sets. With Apple invariably consumers have high expectations. However, all indicators point to Apple improving this platform in the future. This is just the beginning of the Apple TV and there are a lot of possibilities still to be achieved. The smart TV market today is still a tad bit stale with no one really getting the formula perfectly right. Irrespective, it can be safely said that the Apple TV and the tvOS is here to stay. At least for now. d
