All Access, which comes bundled with a subscription of Youtube Red. You get access to 40 million songs which you can download for offline playback if required and no ads – very similar to competitors like Spotify and Apple Music. Play Music supports almost all of the major music file formats such as MP3, AAC, WMA, FLAC, Ogg, or ALAC and also features an auto convert tool to play files from a few other different formats. Additionally, users from USA, Canada and India can also stream radio for free (although it is kinda wonky right now and needs a few kinks worked out for us here). The Play Music subscription service costs ₹99 per month in India and offers a whopping 90 day trial period.
