

in the space-time continuum that allowed for such a free website to even exist. If there is no solace in the world for you, just think of a time 500 years from now people wonder why 'Charlie bit my finger' was the premier problem to occupy the minds of their distant ancestors, and you shall find a tiny bit of happiness. d