

And all the other stuff

A look at Google Chrome, Gmail, Google Pay and all the other Google products that we couldn't dedicate entire chapters to.

Even after all that we've covered so far in this issue of the Fastrack and the previous one, do you think we've managed to fairly cover all of Google's expansive ecosystem? Not really. There's so much more that makes Google what it is. So without further ado, let's dive headfirst into what's left of the Google ecosystem.

Google Chrome and Chrome Web Store

The web browser from the tech giant currently holds more than half of the market share for browser preference across platforms, and for specific