

grown rapidly over the last few years. Nowadays, companies are tapping the rich potential of social media to generate hype and sales leads. There are companies which prompt you to tweet content in return for cash. Don't expect to earn big but you will get some kind of popularity from the community in addition to money. Moreover, several people simultaneously tweet with the same hashtag. Hence, your content will also appear inside the Twitter timeline, which will attract likes and followers.

You won't be making big bucks but you can use this medium to earn side income and also to establish new friends on social media.

Cracking Google News

Google News (http://dgit.in/goo_news) is a curated list of all the latest articles fetched from various sites and blogs, organised by category. It's a dream for every blogger to find a place inside Google News. However, you have to follow certain rules before submission of your blog. The first point to note is that your blog should be centred around latest news. Moreover, you should provide a link to the original source below the article. If you make use of the IonMag theme, you will find options to provide Source and Via link.

List your blog on Google News for boost in traffic

You should create About and Contact Us pages with physical address and domain specific email ids. A separate page about the team members with their profile link and email addresses will also be helpful. Before submission, you should make sure to modify the theme of your blog with a newspaper style layout with date on the top. Google will prompt you to verify the blog either by uploading a file or by modifying DNS parameters. It will take nearly four weeks for your blog to get approved and get approved