

artisans, handicraft specialists and contemporary painters. This is in addition to sculptures and paintings from celebrity artists like S.H.Raza, Amrita Shergil and M.F.Hussain. Well, popularity does come at a cost.

Poster Gully

An online market place for selling your artworks, Poster Gully charges a 2 percent commission on every sale.

Hand crafted/Ethnic products

Since hand made products are becoming ever more popular, here are a few websites to sell them.

CraftsVilla

The basic premise of CarftsVilla is to help customers discover uniquely Indian products online. But compared to bigger retailers like Amazon, CraftsVilla is not a huge avenue. However, since they started operations in 2011, the company has established itself as a name to reckon with in the niche segment that they function in.

AfDay

AfDay, or 'Art for Everyday,' is an online marketplace that focuses on products that are created using everyday objects. They also have a Custom Made section through which a customer could request customized designs to be made. This has attracted the interest of quite a number of consumers.

ItsHandMade

The name of this online seller makes it clear the type of products they sell on their platform. They focus on unique products that cannot be found