

the problem with this type of service is that sellers will lose contact with customers over time and the method is not at all cost effective for beginners. You will have to pump funds into retaining and running the call centre. If you are a newcomer to the online selling arena, it is advisable to interact with your buyers directly to gain trust.

Third-party warranty providers

If you sell products via Flipkart and Amazon, then you need not worry about after-sales service. This is because buyers will be able to purchase extended warranties by paying a required amount and the required service will be provided by another company. The Flipkart Protect Extended Warranty provides repair or replacements directly at the customer premises through Jeeves. After the expiration of the original warranty, buyers will be served by Jeeves who will attend to service calls. However, this service is available only in select cities such as Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Delhi & NCR, Gujarat, Haryana, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Punjab, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu, Telangana, and West Bengal.

The screenshot shows the Jeeves website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the Jeeves logo and links for Customer Support, Business Solutions, Protection Plans, and a Book a Service button. The main banner features the text 'Easy, Reliable and Affordable Services for all home appliances, mobile and furniture'. Below this, a user can select 'Protect' or 'Install' for their device. Key statistics are displayed: 3 Million+ Happy Customers, 300+ Cities, 80+ Products, and 60+ Brand Partners. The 'Solutions for your home' section lists three services: 'Protect' (Extended Warranty), 'Install' (Product setup), and 'Fix' (Service requests). Each service has a brief description and a 'Book' button.
