buyers. You can register either as a sole proprietorship, partnership, LLP, private limited/one-person company. We would suggest you to approach a tax consultant, discuss your requirements and get things done. They will guide you with the steps required to register the company.

The Government of India has simplified the system by introducing online registration process. You can complete a simplified proforma for the purpose of company registration by making use of SPICe INC-32 with eMoA (INC-33), eAOA (INC-34). The SPICe INC-32 is a single application for registration of name, Incorporation of Company and Allotment of DIN. You just need to visit the official website of Ministry of corporate affairs (http://dgit.in/mcagov) and select "Register a New Company", a green option located on the left for more details. It will take 15 to 20 days to register a private limited company through SPICe route.

You need to submit passport size photographs of directors and shareholders in JPEG format, PAN card and any one of the documents such as passport, voter identity card, driving license and Aadhaar card. You should submit approved documents as proof of your residence and registered office. According to rules, you should submit the latest bill/statement not older than 2 months.

Once your company has been registered, you will be provided with the certificate of Incorporation paired with Corporate Identity Number popularly known as CIN. You need to mention the CIN number on the invoice along with PAN and GSTIN number. The CIN is a unique 21-digit number and is required for not only listed but also unlisted companies. You will be provided with the Digital Signature Certificate (DSC) and Director Identification number (DIN) as well along with the Certificate of Incorporation from Registrar of Companies.
