

of your company during the e-commerce marketplace registration process. The documents required for opening a current account will vary depending upon the nature of the company. For example, if you are an individual who would like to open a current account, you should submit one identity proof, address proof forms with a recent photograph and a cancelled cheque leaf from your existing savings or current account.

You have to be very careful while choosing a name for your e-commerce company. If another company finds that your name or domain name resembles or clashes with their business entity, then you will be served with a legal notice. To avoid problems, you need to make sure that the company name is unique, and immediately apply for trademark registration to avoid disputes.

If your e-commerce company is registered as a private limited company, you need to file details of two members and directors. You can easily convert it to an LLP in case of any requirement in future. If you are registering as a one-person company, you need to wait for 2 years to convert to LLP. You need to file information about yourself seconded by a Nominee.

Documents

Before establishing your business either directly or via e-commerce marketplace, it is vital to prepare the required documents. It includes PAN card, GSTID number, bank account and registration of your business entity. Moreover, you require any one of the standard documents such as ration card, voters identity card, driving license and passport.

Pan Card

Firstly, you need to obtain Permanent Account Number (PAN) card, which is compulsory to start any business. A PAN number comprises of ten-digit alphanumeric number. Nowadays, banks have made it mandatory to have PAN card for opening saving/current accounts. Hence, you already will have a PAN card. The PAN cards are issued by UTI Infrastructure Technology and Services Limited. You can directly apply for a PAN card from their official website, which can be reached by navigating to <http://dgit.in/pancard>. If you select Apply for new PAN Card (Form 49) option, you will view a new page with the relevant application. The Form 49 also provides guidelines and instructions, which will be helpful. As of this writing, the total cost for obtaining a PAN card is Rs. 110 including all service taxes. You will be required to submit your address proof along with the application. Generally, voters identity card will be sufficient. If you are not comfortable