

Bank account

Your commission will be credited to your bank account by the retailer after the expiry of the return window. If you are selling through the fulfilment center of your e-commerce provider and if the buyer returns good, you will not receive any commission for the generated sale. For more details, checkout the next chapter.

List of documents acceptable as address proof

- Passport
- Driving license
- Voter Identity card
- Utility bills (Telephone/Mobile/LPG)

List of documents acceptable as KYC

- Passport
- Driving license
- PAN card
- NREGA job card
- Aadhaar
- Identity card with photograph issued by state/ central government/ PSU/ bank
- Utility bill (Telephone/Mobile/LPG)
- Property Tax bill
- Bank account statement
- Post office savings bank account statement

If you are tech-savvy, you can complete the process yourself. Otherwise, you will have to approach a tax consultant for help, where you'll be charged for the services. The advantage is that you just need to hand over the documents and rest of work will be carried out by them. The best method is to approach an offline tax consultant and discuss the matters.

Direct Selling

If you opt for direct selling via your own ecommerce website, you need to obtain all the required registration numbers and other necessary approvals. After that, you need to register your domain, purchase a compatible web hosting package, opt for a suitable payment gateway and develop your frontend and backend systems. It will take time to build a shopping site and is also expensive. Hence, you can opt for e-commerce shopping plugins such