

Amazon

To sell on Amazon, visit http://dgit.in/amazon_seller and complete the formalities. The first step is to create a seller account by providing your business and bank account details including tax information by selecting Register Now button. You will be prompted to provide your business legal name. Moreover, you need to provide your bank account details and GST/PAN numbers in case if you are selling taxable products. If you don't have a number, you can skip by selecting No. You will have to select one option out of three if you select No. If you are selling books, GST is not required. Hence, you should provide your Pan number. You can also choose to provide GST number at a later stage. If you have applied for the GST and not yet received the number, you can provide Provisional GSTIN number. You can make use of this number until you get the original GST number. Once you have completed this process, the next step is to attend a seller interview. You will be given access to the exclusive dashboard, where you can add products and set pricing.

Establish partnership with world's leading ecommerce company

eBay

You can learn the various steps required to sell on eBay from the exclusive Seller Central (http://dgit.in/ebay_seller). Before starting, you need to obtain GSTIN number as explained in the above section. eBay has provided a flowchart regarding the various steps required to be followed for GST but the company prompts you to visit the website of a third-party tax provider.

Sell and earn respect on eBay

You need not have to worry about the forms and other things. If you contact the tax provider, they will help you out but you require documents such as PAN and other documents. As a seller, you can easily generate GSTIN invoices and credit notes directly from your seller dashboard. You