

DIY Part 1- Let the Fun Begin

Creating a wireframe, working with artboards and building icons. Let's actually start creating an UI!

Artboard is the main working area for you - it's the white space where you actually design the app screen. Within a single file, you can create artboards for various screen sizes, mobile, tablet, desktop/ laptop or any other wearable - just select from the predefined size or set your custom size and you are good to go. So basically, in one file, you can add in as many artboards as you want in one file.

Photoshop users, here's a boon for you: you don't need to create separate files for every screen, all of your screens can be saved in one file.
