

your project involves books, you can generate a link for author artboard. The end user should only be able to view the prototype of the specific artboard.

The first step is to open the Adobe XD file either from the tool or the folder where the file is saved. You need to click on the UP arrow enclosed inside a small square and select the option named Publish Prototype. You should mention a suitable title for your prototype and provide the required values for the various options such as Allow Comments, Open in Full Screen, Show Hotspot Hints, and Require Password.

Easily create shareable links with Adobe XD

The Allow comments option, which is enabled by default by the tool helps users to provide feedback on the shared prototype. If you would like

Checkout the format of Adobe XD link and embed code