

the prototype to open in full screen with 100% actual size, you should select Open in Full Screen option. The Show Hotspot Hints option helps your users to view hotspot hints from within the prototype. If the clicked area is not interactive, then they are depicted via outlines that reveal the clickable areas.

After setting all the options, you should select Create Public Link button and the required URL will be automatically created. If you had edited the design after sharing the link, you should refresh the shared URL, which can be done by selecting Publish Prototype and clicking Update link. You should select New Link option if you want to grab a new link for sharing among team members.

You can also directly copy the link for the purpose of email and social media by selecting the Copy Link option. The Open Link option should be selected to open the published prototype using a web browser. It is also possible to copy the embed code just like you do in YouTube by selecting Copy Embed Code option. If your webpage provides support for inline frames, you can directly copy the code.

Password Protection

If the project you are working upon is confidential or under contract Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA), then you may need to protect the link with a specific password. You can protect new prototypes with a password of your choice. It is also possible to password protect prototypes created using Adobe XD 6 and above that are already shared.

The Require Password option can be used for this purpose. You should also share the password along with the file and the reviewer will be able to view the prototype content only if the password correctly matches. The password should contain at least 8 characters among A-Z, a-z and 0-9. Select Create Public Link button after setting the password as per the displayed guidelines. It is to be noted that Adobe XD doesn't store passwords but it should be shared by the team leader to the members.
