

Taste your ROM

Finally it's that time. The ROM is cooked and we are ready to serve it.

Packaging the ROM

The excitement of having a new custom ROM is insane. And we completely understand if you cannot wait for another second before you flash that beautiful brand new custom ROM onto your device. Yep, we would not have been able to wait either. But you will have to, if only for a little while. Before you flash your ROM, you will need a ROM zip to do your bidding. So where do you find a ROM zip? You find yourself an Android Kitchen to work out of. Till now we have been using 2 kitchens- cygwin and Assayyed. You may have done some of the customisations using cygwin and some using Assayyed. You can use either one to repack it.
