

DesiDime.com – This is also a community-driven online shopping deal website. This particular website facilitates an environment which provides a platform to collaborate, make friends and share information which is then deduced to come up with some of the best deals. A close discussion of members helps them take important shopping decisions to make your shopping experience even better.

It was started by cousins Mehul Jobanputra & Jimish Jobanputra. The community also encourages the members to contribute by posting deals that they found on other websites on the internet and thus helping each other in saving the extra bucks.

CamelCamelCamel – If you are looking for deals on the World's Largest e-commerce site, i.e. Amazon, then you should turn your head towards this deal-tracking site which works exclusively for Amazon.

It tracks deals and exciting offers on this platform and helps the customers to buy better.

Though it doesn't deal in any kind of camel business as the name suggests.

FreeKaaMaal.com - Nothing comes for free so don't be duped by the title. This website is one of the leading deals and coupons sites in India. It's a community site where most of the deals and offers are submitted by the shoppers themselves.

The deals posted by the consumers are then researched thoroughly by the backend team, and from their selection, a certain deal is promoted. This is one of the best example of crowdsourcing wherein people come in and give their deals which they think are the best and accordingly a choice is made by our editorial team.

Freekaamaal has partnered up with more than 600 online stores which include bigshots such as Amazon, Myntra, Jabong, Flipkart and many more. So, the next time you can turn up to this amazing site if you need special discounts when you shop at these bigshot e-commerce firms.

So, these are the list of some of the best websites which give you some of the best deals for your best shopping experience.

We also have Paytm on which we can also get coupons pertaining to some online shopping sites. You also have Amazon Pay, Paytm Wallet and other online wallets which have some amazing deals attached to it wherein if you will pay for products or services through this mode of payment then you shall receive special discounts. So, you should always be on the lookout for such offers and never miss these.