

You can also go online to seal an interesting deal offline. Apps such as Crownit and O2O are certain deal providers wherein you can look for online deals regarding your favourite hangout place such as restaurant and café and then redeem your offers on that. For example, if you dine out somewhere and you come home and upload the bill on Crownit, then you will instantly get a cashback of around 10% to 15% into your account. Just think how amazing it will be to enjoy discounts even after you are done with the particular transaction.

Deal Trackers on Facebook and Instagram

Amazing Online shopping deals and what other places other than the most used Social Media sites to promote some amazing deals.

Facebook is a place where we regularly see adds of the different products that we have recently viewed and we easily see if there is a price drop for those products that we have been looking for. You can easily see a price drop or price rise and act accordingly. This is done through Google crawlers which keep a track on all the online searches that we do.

Apart from this in-built feature of Facebook, we have dedicated Facebook pages pertaining to deals and coupons across many platforms.

There are pages such as Deal Tracker, Home Deal Tracker, etc. which help us with finding deals according to our suitability and convenience which will suit our motive.

Coming to Instagram, this is by far the most amazing site to find the most amazing deals. Instagram deal crackers pages are in plenty which gives you some of the best deals, and since it is only a photo-sharing platform, the deals supported by attractive photos makes the attractive deals even more attractive. These deals are a testament to the amazing platform that this visually attractive social media site provides.

Pages such as @targetdealfinder and other attractive platforms provide you with a robust environment in which you can track some of the best deals and come up with some of the best prices. They bring you deals from many other sites other than the mainstream shopping sites.

Apart from this most of the deal sites on Instagram also sell the particular product which we are in a lookout for. They don't take the pain of setting up an e-commerce site or to register with these sites but instead set up an online store on Instagram and sell the products directly from them. They sell at some of the best deals which you might not even get it on the popular e-commerce sites.
