

Advanced : Using Images as Markers

This is an advanced look at some extra cool features to the AR build that can give the entire app an extra edge. Images can be programmed to be identified and treated as representative markers with a little bit of code tweaking.