

to change the Render samples and not Preview samples before rendering the final image.

Once you are satisfied with all the render settings, all you need to do is click on the Render button in the Render Tab. This will open the render window and start rendering your image. Once the render is complete, hit 'F3', select a location on your computer and save your image. 