

Why you must get it:

FocusWriter is a wonderful word processor which comes with distraction free options. It aids you in putting down all your ideas on a given page without too many distractions. By moving the cursor, you can get to your menu and choose options that you would like to use. You can set alarms and targets in this application and once the time gets elapsed, it will automatically highlight the fact and text. The files which are been created in the FocusWriter would be saved in TXT, RTF, DOCX, ODT automatically. Once it gets saved in the preferred format, the next moment you could export to the Word document. Novice writers find this application very useful.
