

and hence the numbers don't always provide correct specifications.

YouTube is a reserve of video content. It provides one of the biggest search-engine platforms to users all across and hence service industry businessmen find Youtube almost indispensable to facilitate their businesses. They offer content on how to do different things which can be utilized by the public who desire to gain such specific knowledge.

LinkedIn

The mature audiences, typically in the age bracket of 30 to 50, have been dedicated users of LinkedIn. People use LinkedIn to search for jobs, relevant professional networks and hence the focus is slim and concentrated. So, the platform operates smoothly for B2B lead generation, recruitment of employees and general networking.

Snapchat

The newest of the social media influences on the bloc, Snapchat operates through videos and different related filters to commune with the audience and build engagement and interaction between them. The young