

and group stories as well, making sure you are able to make the most of its exclusiveness.

Audience profile and ROI-

You can calculate the exact ROI with the right information. You cannot track a user's engagement easily as the content stays on the platform for a very limited period of time. A few metrics can help you to determine your ROI estimations-

- Views: It shows how many people have watched your video or seen your photo. It's a very simple value that lets you know if people are really into your product or not.
- Engagement: This helps in noticing how many people use a Snapchat filter.
- Screenshots: This metric indicates the users are saving your content to look at later.
- Story completion rate: You'll know the exact number of people viewing your stories.
- Viewing trends: It compares your current viewing rate with your previous one to see if you've made any progress.
- Story opens: It shows the number of people opening up stories, even if not viewing them as whole.

Snapstreaks

Snapstreaks are looked upon as one of those features that augment the interest of its users more and more as days pass by. Snapstreaks show the number of days two people continue to share snaps for. The more they continue to send snaps to each other, the better the figure of their snapstreaks. Having established a streak, they can see special emojis and statistics next to the names of their names, showing how long they have maintained a streak. Of course, this is a feature that gets users more and more entangled in the elusiveness of this application.

There are many other features of Snapchat, that show that snapchat is about something much more than sharing photos and creating streaks.

1. Geo-filters: They are location-specific elements that can be unlocked only by visiting a specific place. Businesses love geo-filters, as they are one of the best ways of advertising.
2. Snapcash: Through this feature, users can comfortably transfer money to one another.